PROFILE

Garrett is a High-Performance Executive Coach for individuals, leaders and teams. He specialises in developing winning tactics, strategy, culture and behaviours for ambitious organisations that want to accelerate from good to world class.

With an impressive background that brings a spine of unquestionable credibility to his work, Garrett has led international teams to the Olympic Games (Tokyo 2020) and Five World Championships, navigating the micro and macro challenges of competing internationally at the most demanding level.

He has coached at the individual and team level for over 30 years, has a deep background in education, is a Certified Performance Coach and is Accredited with the International Coaching Federation.

Garrett brings a unique set of strengths to his process: He is a creative problem solver, deeply values-based and brings enormous gravitas and self-assurance to the leaders that he works with.

He leverages his creative approach to support individuals and teams across all industries. His focus is on people and creating transformative learning experiences around what matters most.
