Profile:

Morgaine is a performance coach, leader and change management consultant who is passionate about high performance and achieving balance. She pulls on her experience as an elite swimmer, business professional and mum of two to develop others and achieve results.

As a natural problem solver, Morgaine gravitates to complex operational organisations and has built her career leading transformational change. For over a decade, she has helped organisations design and deliver complex transformation and process improvements, often involving technology and operating model change. Most recently, Morgaine led a team within the Safety, Security and Environment function of Airservices Australia, focused on operational risk management across the air traffic management area. She is currently consulting in change leadership and running a coaching practice for women returning to work after maternity leave.

Morgaine enjoys helping clients optimise their skills and work in a way that aligns with their values and strengths. She brings a level of focus and discipline; and injects energy and fun into her sessions.
